
← Pre-Course Work

12 / 19

More Love for the Command Line

Another reason to use the CLI is to automate and simplify many common tasks, such as running a script at a certain time or looping an action (e.g., refreshing the internet every 30 seconds).

We'll dive deeper into using the command line in a later lesson. For now, remember that the goal of this practice is to retrain the way you approach using your computer and get you thinking like a programmer!

