Course Flow

As you complete this pre-work, if you find yourself thinking...

“This stuff is way too easy, is this course actually going to challenge me?” The purpose of these tasks is to make sure that everyone starts the course on the same page. If you are speeding through this material, you’re in a great place to start the course! Don’t worry, our course ramps up fast!

“This stuff is way too hard, am I going to be able to keep up?” That’s why we suggest these tasks in the first place - so you can get up to speed! We’ll be reviewing many of these concepts in our first week as well, so you’ll have multiple chances to fully catch up. If you’re still having trouble, let your instructor know!

Our prework is chock full of goodies: videos, tutorials, code practices, and even a few chuckles — so enjoy the learning, and we’ll see you in class!
